New Program for the Expansion of the National Electric System

The Electric Reform in Mexico seeks to transform and improve the electric power sector in the country to have a more efficient and modern system for the generation, transmission and distribution of electricity.

On June 30th, 2015 the Ministry of Energy (“SENER”) issued the Program for the Expansion of the National Electric System (“PRODESEN”). The document comprises the elements required to modernize, develop and expand the National Electric System (“SEN”), the National Transmission Network (“RNT”), as well as the General Distribution Networks (“RGD”). Likewise, it defines which infrastructure projects must be developed to satisfy the electric energy demand in the country.

group specialized in the electric power sector, which allows us to provide our clients with specific knowledge and expertise.

PRODESEN also includes and promotes the development of clean energy projects to achieve the goal of 25% of clean energy generation by 2018.

On the next 30 days, SENER will determine the establishment of associations and contracts for the execution of projects determined by PRODESEN. Thus, SENER will be receiving concrete proposals so that the private industry and the Federal Commission of Electricity (“CFE”) participate in the development of said projects.
